One of my milliners was taking Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for a severe cold at that time, which seemed to relieve her so quickly that I bought some for myself. PASSED TO THE BEYOND.

Death of Mrs. Garrett S. Wall Occurred Yesterday Morning.

At 11 o'clock yesterday morning, at the family home, 120 West Front street, occurred the death of Mrs. Garrett S. Wall.

Mrs. Wall had been failing in health for about a year. Several weeks since her condition became serious, and all that willing hands and loving hearts could do to relieve her was of no avail, her sufferings ending in death at the hour above named.

Elizabeth Buckner was born at the old family homestead at Edgewood, Kenton county, in 1849.

On April 20th, 1889, she was united in marriage to Hon. Garrett S. Wall, who with three children—Garrett B. and Henry Buckner of Richmond, Va., and Miss Ethelene E. of this city—survives. Mrs. Wall has living also two brothers, Colonel John A. Buckner of Louisiana and Dr. James H. Buckner of Cincinnati and one sister, Mrs. Stephen Henry of Erlanger.

The funeral will take place from the residence tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock, with services by the Rev. D. D. Chapin of the Church of the Nativity, after which the remains will be interred in the Maysville Cemetery.

It is desired that the members of the Dr. Basil C. Duke Chapter of the Daughters of the Confederacy shall, as far as possible, as a body, attend the funeral of their former companion in membership, Mrs. Garrett S. Wall, tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock.

SUICIDE IN CHICAGO.

Was to Have Wedded Mrs. Eva Bruce Wood, Late of This City.

Sometime Saturday night Captain Louis Ostheim, First U. S. Artillery, shot and killed himself at the Auditorium Hotel, Chicago, but the fact was not discovered till Sunday evening.

Captain Ostheim had recently returned from the Philippines. He was to have been married yesterday to Mrs. Eva Bruce Wood, granddaughter of Colonel Charles Phister, and who until lately resided here, but who has for some time made her home in Chicago with her uncle, Mr. Walter B. Phister, at whose residence the wedding was to occur.

Among the Captain's effects were found two wedding rings, one inscribed, "Eva to Louis, April 9, 1900," and the other, "Louis to Eva, April 9, 1900."

He had already purchased railroad tickets for himself and bride as far as Cincinnati, where they intended to stop on their bridal tour to Philadelphia, which was the Captain's home. All the surroundings pointed to deliberate suicide, but Mr. Phister feels sure that death was due to accident.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from ten drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O. Sold by Druggists, 75 cents. Hall's Family Pills are the best.

CAMPBELL ANSWERED

Republican stronghold when the Democratic gain was 11% in excess of the Republican gain? In contrast with this, let us look at the corresponding vote in the First District, which has always been styled the Gibraltar of Democracy in Kentucky. In 1895 the Republican vote in this District was 9,658; in 1896 it was 13,394, a gain of 35%. In 1895 the Democratic vote in same District was 13,170; in 1896 it was 25,842, a gain of 95%.

These figures, taken from the official returns in the office of the Secretary of State, show that in the Republican stronghold the Democrats gained 11% more than the Republicans, and in the Democratic stronghold they (the Democrats) gained 61% more.

Again referring to Colonel Campbell's opinion of Kentucky honor, that each party steals all it can, I ask from the evidence above given, which party does he think did the most stealing?

Colonel Campbell enters at length into the discussion of the legality of a contest. No one disputes that contests are allowable and in many instances justifiable. Individual contests have been frequent when the election has been close and they have often resulted in the interest of justice. A contest before an impartial, unprejudiced, non-partisan jury is an essential part of a free Government, and no one objects or can object to it. The contest, so called, provided for by the Goebel Law has been such a farce, and such a travesty on justice, that it has, as Henry Watterson said, "heralded the proud name of the old Commonwealth as a byword to the ends of the earth."

THE CONTEST A FARCE.

It was, to start with, not a contest of individuals, but a party contest agreed upon in a caucus of party leaders, in which those who were by this law to decide the contest were present and advised the contest to be made. It was a contest waged only because the contesting party controlled the jury and were assured of a favorable verdict before the trial began. It was a contest in which the committee who was to try it was by fraud made to consist of ten staunch supporters of the contesting party and but one man belonging to an opposite party. It was a contest in which the jurors took the part of attorneys; it was a contest in which by arbitrary rulings they excluded competent testimony on one side and admitted incompetent testimony on the other. It was a contest in which the final result was seen from the beginning, and it is no wonder that the people were aroused, and the riotous, revolutionary condition of mind forced upon them so clearly portrayed in advance by Watterson in what Colonel Campbell calls his "stump speech oratory."

The baseless grounds of this contest, known of all men, make it a mockery, a farce, an insult to honor and intelligence. The contesting party had controlled every precinct in every county in the state in the appointment of officers; it had the State Board and every particle of the election machinery under its control, and still was compelled to certify to defeat.

The very idea of contesting when defeated under these conditions is so absurd as to preclude all discussion of the validity of this contest. I do not believe a single well-informed man in the state, Democrat or Republican, has any doubt but that the Republicans were elected. Hundreds of Democrats, supporters of Goebel, have so expressed themselves to me. They have all said that there should have been no contest after such a signal defeat under conditions so favorable to the defeated party. The people of the state and country justly charge this law with all the evils and violence that have occurred in Kentucky in the past few months.

Such has been the working and such the effect of the law which Colonel Campbell attempts to defend. Its unfairness is evident from its purely partisan character in its every provision; its evil influences are so patent to all that scarcely a single Kentuckian can now be found who will defend it. A New Yorker is sought out, who writes a defense as a sort of flank movement in his campaign of "damning the Republican party." It is true Editor Urey Woodson, who claims the mantle of the great Goebel, defends the law on the ground "that the property-owning whites" may be able to rule under its provisions.

The poor laborer who owns no property may under it be disfranchised along with the despised Negro, and Urey thinks this a "consummation devoutly to be wished."

But this will not take place in this "Government of the people, by the people, for the people," founded on the corner-stone laid by the immortal Jefferson, that "all men are created free and equal." It will not happen in this grand old state, where even the poor laborers, whom this law would disfranchise, prize their liberty as dearly as the ruddy drops of living fluid that pulsate through their bodies; it will never come to pass under the blinding banner of the brave, baptized in the blood of a thousand battle-fields, that the liberties for which our fathers have shed their blood as freely as drops of rain pour from an April cloud, shall be snatched from their descendants.

It is too late to write a defense of this law; it has condemned itself. Colonel Campbell's efforts are useless. The handwriting is on the wall. This law must perish and civil liberty shall live.

Parsons & Co., druggists of this place, to try Chamberlain's Pain Balm. They recommended it so highly that I bought a bottle. I was soon relieved of all pain. I have since recommended this liniment to many of my friends, who agree with me that it is the best remedy for muscular rheumatism in the market." For sale by J. Jas. Wood & Son, Druggists.

Does It Pay To Buy Cheap?

A cheap remedy for coughs and colds is all right but you want something that will relieve and cure the more severe and dangerous results of throat and lung troubles. What shall you do? Go to a warmer and more regular climate? Yes, if possible; if not possible for you, then in either case take the only remedy that has been introduced in all civilized countries with success in severe throat and lung troubles, "Boschee's German Syrup." It not only heals and stimulates the tissues to destroy the germ disease, but allays inflammation, causes easy expectoration, gives a good night's rest, and cures the patient. Try one bottle. Recommended many years by all druggists in the world. For sale by J. C. Peacor.

Question Answered.
Yes, August Flower still has the largest sale of any medicine in the civilized world. Your mothers and grandmothers never thought of using anything else for indigestion or Bileousness. Doctors were scarce, and they seldom heard of Appendicitis, Nervous Prostration or Heart Failure, etc. They used August Flower to clean out the system and stop fermentation of undigested food, regulate the action of the liver, stimulate the nervous and organic action of the system, and that is all they took when feeling dull and bad with headaches and other aches. You only need a few doses of Green's August Flower, in liquid form, to make you satisfied there is nothing serious the matter with you. For sale by J. C. Peacor.
